Hold Youths for Seven Ashton Break-Ins

Two Teenagers Admit Looting; Facing Court

Sheriff Redebaugh Says 13-Year-Olds List Burglaries

Two 13-year-old Ashton school boys will appear in county court Friday on delinquency charges following arrest for a seven break-in crime wave last week in Ashton.

Names of the two boys were withheld by Sheriff Charles H. Redebaugh. The sheriff said that the break-ins were not reported to him and that he began an investigation last week after hearing rumors about the burglaries. Ashton has no regular police force.

Admit Burglaries
The youths have admitted entering the Baker pool hall, Bodie she store, Robert Dean's store and home, Klingebiel's Implement store twice and the Huddle cafe. The burglaries at the pool hall, shoe store, implement firm and cafe occurred Feb. 3 while the boys entered the Dean store and home and the implement store again Feb. 7.

Steal 'Iron Lung'
At the pool hall the March of Dimes "iron lung" was stolen in addition to cigars, pipes, tobacco and chewing gum. At the shoe store a small amount of money and a pocket knife were taken. At the Dean store some change was taken and at the same a small amount of money was taken from a purse. At the implement store two flashlights and some batteries were stolen and at the cafe an undetermined amount of change was taken.

Enter Through Window
The boys entered the pool hall through a window. At the shoe store they took off the storm door and broke the glass. At Dean's store they forced open a window. At the home the door was unlocked. At the implement store the youths broke windows on both occasions to gain entrance. At the cafe a back door was forced open.

Sheriff Redebaugh said that most of the money and other articles taken have been recovered. The youths were arraigned Tuesday before Justice of the Peace Sterling W. Schrock who bound them over to county court and released them on $500 bond each.

Rural Firemen Called to Blaze

Dixon rural firemen extinguished a grass fire along the right of way of the Chicago and North Western railroad at the Sidney Buckaloo farm just west of McRoberts crossing this morning.

According to Fire Chief John Quest the blaze evidently was started by sparks from a passing locomotive. No damage was caused. Time of the alarm was 6:30 a.m.

Duke of Windsor Arrives for Funeral of Brother, George VI

LONDON—(AP)—The Duke of Windsor returned to England today to join in the national mourning for his brother, King George VI, whose subjects gathered in increasing numbers to pay tribute at ancient Westminster Hall.

"It is indeed a sad arrival," said the duke, who arrived alone at Southampton from New York.

Acheson Arrives
Secretary of State Dean Acheson arrived by air from the United States to represent President Truman at the state funeral Friday. He will join six kings, and the representatives of many heads of states in the rites at Windsor.

Despite snow flurries and 17 degree cold a line of mourners six abreast and two miles long formed at noon outside the doors of nine-centuries-old Westminster Hall where the dead king lay in state a second day.

Businessmen and students, workers, women and children from Scotland, Wales and northern England, the Commonwealth and foreign countries were in the line.

CHILD SURVIVES CRASH—Student nurse Margaret Kaylor adjusts the hat of Patricia Clausen, 5, who was unharmed in the National Airlines DC-6 crash at Elizabeth, N. J. The little girl toddled through the corridors of Elizabeth General hospital yesterday looking for her "Mommy and Daddy." Hospital attendants could not bring themselves to tell her that her mother was killed in the crash and that her father was critically injured. Authorities finally located an uncle who agreed to call for Patricia.

Army to Call Record Number Of Reserves for Summer Drills

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The army announced today it will conduct this year the biggest summer-camp training program for its reserves in the nation's history.

The department said that 160,000 reserve officers and enlisted men will be called for 15 days active duty, for training on a "mandatory" basis. Volunteers and other categories will bring the training total up to about 190,000.

121,000 Last Year
It will be the second summer that members of the troop program units of the organized reserve corps have been required to attend summer camp. Last year 121,000 reservists were trained in the largest field encampment program to date. In 1950, about 50,000 took summer field training.

The training last summer was at 151 camps. The army has not determined how many will be needed this year. Nor has it announced plans for the six weeks of basic branch training at summer camps for college ROTC students. Last year more than 21,000 students took part.

Add Other Groups
In addition to the 160,000 mandatory trainees—44,000 officers and 105,000 enlisted men plus 11,000 officers holding individual mobilization designations—the summer-time total will include:

Fifteen thousand officers of the Volunteer Reserve assigned to 15-day tours of summer field training; other active duty or school attendance.

Two thousand recruits in the Organized Reserve Corps who are without prior military service. They are authorized to serve a 30-day tour with an active army training division.

Two thousand six hundred seventy-seven officers and 2,805 enlisted men who are students at service schools. There will be an average of 60 days of summer schooling for the officers and 30 days for the enlisted men.

17-Day Training
Six thousand seven hundred seventy-four officers and 1,954 enlisted men who are students at army area schools. They will be selected on the basis of training for further advancement, and their summer courses will average 17 days.

Three hundred officers and 324 enlisted men on the staff and faculty of the army area schools; 60 days for officers, 30 days for enlisted men.

To prepare for the summer field training, 10,450 officers and enlisted men will be asked to put in four extra days of duty, in order to take part in pre-camp conferences or to act as advance and rear detachments.

At 8 a. m., when the hall doors opened, 15,000 were in line. They filed past silently at a rate of 3,000 an hour—1,000 more than yesterday—but the line had grown to 40,000 by noon.

Will Miss Rites
Queen Mary, grandmother of Queen Elizabeth II, will miss the funeral of her son.

The dowager queen "is perfectly well," said a member of her household, "but it should be remembered that she will be 85 this year and it is felt that she should avoid strain and ordeal of the ceremony."

Father Jones To Close Youth Center in Year

'Too Big,' Says Pastor; Urges Other Support

Dixon's Youth Center at St. Luke's church will close on or before Jan. 1, 1953, it was announced today by the center director, the Rev. Vernon L. Jones.

Rev. Jones said he was closing the center, now in its fourth year, because of lack of space. He added that he hoped that some "all-city civic organization, backed by the Lions, Rotary and Women's clubs, would see to it that the Center does not cease to exist."

Center Is Needed
"I have proved that one (a youth center) is needed and will be used if run on modern lines," he said. "I now hand it over to the community of Dixon. I have done my best."

In making the announcement, Rev. Jones also gave the center costs for the past three years. The totals show an increase of $1,258.71 for 1949 to $2,127.78 for 1951.

Blames Costs
The skyrocketing costs, according to Rev. Jones, could be blamed on janitor, damage and repair expense.

"This is due to more frequent use of the Center and the fact that the longer the Center is open and there are more and more who consider the place belongs to them and they are less careful of the property."

"Many of the young people today do not consider themselves as my guests, as they originally did, but that the center is theirs by right."

Attendants' Fees
"This year I am paying 75 cents an hour for attendants (formerly it was $1 an evening) and I estimate this item alone for 1952 will be about $800."

The janitor costs were $179.75 in 1949; $367.57 in 1950 and $516.63 in 1951. Attendants' costs leaped from $177 in 1949 to $241.50 in 1951. Utilities rose $140 in costs the three year period, and damage went from $148.21 to $498.40.

Other items, such as music and parties, dropped in cost.

Previous figures announced showed that nearly 350 teen-agers visit the Episcopal church basement each weekend.

Never Large Enough
Commenting on the closing of the center, Rev. Jones said that "St. Luke's parish hall is not and never has been large enough to have a genuine Youth Center. Some place must be found where such a place can be operated."

Stratton Can Win Over Stevenson

William G. Stratton, a brilliant veteran in public service as well as a veteran of the war in the Pacific, is being picked by impartial political observers as the high man in the Republican primary election for the nomination for governor. His record in office as congressman-at-large from Illinois and state treasurer two different terms has given the public an opportunity to judge his ability and character and he has measured up as a highly satisfactory administrator, with sound judgment.

In Stratton's last campaign, when he ran for state treasurer in the Republican primaries, the wise old prophet in politics said that he was not a serious contender and that the nomination would go to one of the candidates from the Chicago area who had organized backing, with money and influence. Bill Stratton had no organization, no money, no patronage. He simply started out in his car and went from one end of the state to the other meeting people and telling his old friends and new friends that he was a candidate. He swept Illinois in the Republican primary by a huge vote and he was elected in the fall.

Now we have a situation where there are four candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. Two of them are from Cook county. They will divide some of the vote in Cook county, but Stratton has surprising strength in Chicago and in the Republican country towns of Cook and he has organized support in the city which will be added to the tremendous vote he will roll up downstate.

Stratton has always been a remarkable vote getter and his years of public service have added to his stature and his ability. He has become a gifted speaker and his sound and sane views on the many serious problems confronting state and nation will appeal to the thinking voter.

As a candidate for the gubernatorial nomination Stratton will be among friends in Lee county, as indeed he will in all of this great state. We predict victory for Stratton in this area and in Illinois.

Truman Will Give Plans In 10-15 Days

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Benjamin G. Browdy, president of the Zionist Organization of America, said President Truman told him today he will make up his mind "within the next 10 to 15 days" whether to run for reelection.

Browdy, after a call at the White House, also told reporters: "Judging by his remarks, I'd say he will run again. I personally hope he will."

Only yesterday, Rep. Sabath (D-Ill.) quoted the president as telling him he might make the "sacrifice" and seek reelection if it would serve world peace.

Charged With Taking $250 For Horsemeat

Bribed by Packing Plant Owners Says State's Attorney

CHICAGO—(AP)—An Illinois state food inspector, newly suspended in the statewide horsemeat scandal, was arrested today on a charge of accepting a bribe.

Charles David Hunter of Alledo, who was suspended yesterday, was taken into custody in Rock Island and charged with accepting $250 from two meat packers who have been charged with reselling repacked horsemeat without labeling it as such.

Resume Inquiry
In Waukegan, the Lake county grand jury resumed its inquiry into the horsemeat case after a one-day Lincoln's birthday recess. First to appear before it was Charles W. Wray of Wadsworth, discharged superintendent of the State Division of Foods and Dairies. Wray made a one-minute appearance.

His attorneys, William Crawford and Edward Healy of Chicago, told newsmen they had informed Wray of his constitutional rights but did not directly advise him not to testify on the ground of self-incrimination. They said Wray would be available to testify before the Cook county grand jury, which resumed its own inquiry into the horsemeat case in Chicago today, or before any federal or downstate grand juries.

Drive-In Owner Sought
State's Atty. Robert C. Nelson of Lake county ordered a statewide search for Carl Olson, operator of a drive-in restaurant in Skokie and another restaurant near Lake Zurich. Olson failed to appear before the grand jury in response to a subpoena. Monday and was ordered to appear in court this morning to show cause why he should not be cited for contempt. He again failed to appear, and the search was ordered.

In Rock Island, State's Atty. Bernard J. Moran, announcing the arrest of Hunter, former food inspector, said Hunter was charged with accepting a $250 bribe from Matt Kiersch and Robert Klotz.

Plant Operators
Klaersch and Klotz operated an Oak Park packing plant and are charged in a federal criminal information filed at Chicago with reselling repacked horsemeat without labeling it as such.

Hunter was arraigned before Police Magistrate Lester Eckstrom and released on $3,000 bond. His hearing was continued to Feb. 23. As a food inspector, Hunter was in charge of inspections in Mercer, Henry, Stark and Rock Island counties. He was suspended by Roy Yung, director of the State Department of Agriculture, bringing to 13 the number of food inspectors either fired or suspended as a result of the horsemeat investigation.

Merry was arrested Tuesday night on Rt. 64 by State Patrolman Frederick Pfeiffer and charged with drunken driving and being intoxicated on a public highway.

On the first charge he was given the Vandallia sentence and had his license revoked for one year by Judge Helen Rutkowski. On the second charge he was ordered to pay a $5 fine and $12 in costs.

For several weeks, now and especially these past few days, magazines, newspapers and radio have been subtly reminding the men in our lives to be an amorous angel and send their valentine flowers, candy and perfume.

Why don't these so called "amorous angels," better yet the publicity and advertising men who have been wooing soft hearted citizens with hearts and flowers since mid-December, proclaim a "Be Kind to Women Week?"

THIS SUGGESTED "week" could include all 365 days, 366 in leap year, when the so-called stronger sex would take it easy with their harsh criticism of milady's styles, actions and careers.

Publicity men for the well-known costume jewelry, cosmetic and lingerie firms never had it as good as they have this year with their over emphasis of leap year. Their slogans: "Wear 'Oh So Nice Perfume' to Snare That Man in Your Life"; "This Is Leap Year, Your Chance to Capture Your Romeo by Wearing 'Stick With Me' powder, and 'Show Him Your Heart Is Open by Wearing a Gold Heart Pin by 'Hearts Afire and Company.' " No wonder some of the leading bachelors feel they are "God's Gift to Women."

A WONDERMENT to this writer is what these lover boys think of the members of their sex who have made the shaving lotion, men's cologne and haberdasherie companies the business magnates they are today. No doubt the gay Lotharios of this era don't themselves in what Esquire suggests, are forever plastering their hair down and continuing their search for that masculine but feminine lotion and cologne, just to please themselves. No doubt.

BY THE WAY, you Valentine gift-givers and followers, what do you think of the new poodle cut? Wait a minute before you give your views on the most controversial subject to "hit the hair-waves." Remember the crew cut rage? How about it? Don't you agree that some women look charming with a Poodle just as a number of men are complimented with a Butch cut? So, friends, just hold your tongues when the subject of 1952 hair styles comes up.

IF THAT TIME-OLD question arises on how to save the money out of this week's check to buy the little woman that token to make you the man in her life, why not present her with this one simple statement, "Honey, from now on, your opinions will be respected and your styles admired in this twosome. The price of this? A little self control at times!"

Stick with it, men, you may be somebody's Valentine after all. Just one more paragraph. On the way home tomorrow night better stop at the local florist or candy store for a wee Valentine remembrance. After all you might even be offered a piece of the candy or one of the fragrant buds for your coat lapel. Better yet, my club meets tonight and I want to be allowed to stay for at least the program.

State Sues to Get Land for Rt. 2 Repairs

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hill, who own property three miles northeast of Dixon on Rt. 2, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn S. Hill who are tenants there, Sup. Leon W. Miller and his wife, the Illinois Northern Utilities company and the Dixon National bank are defendants in a condemnation suit brought by the state department of public works and buildings.

The suit was filed today with Circuit Clerk John O. Shaulis by Atty. Gen. Ivan A. Elliott. The state wants property owned by the defendants for right of way in the resurfacing and improvement of Rt. 2.

The property in question is situated at Hill's curve three miles northeast of Dixon. Under the state plan the curve would be straightened and made less sharp but the property owners refuse to sell the land needed.

According to the complaint the state wants the court to condemn the land under the right of eminent domain and set a price for the purchase from the owners.

The bank has a mortgage on the property owned by Miller and the public service company claims some right to some of the property, the complaint states.

FIRST OFFICIAL ACT

LONDON, (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II conducted her first official ceremony at Buckingham palace today, receiving Prime Minister Winston Churchill in a state audience.

Ah, Sweet Love, It's Time, It's Time, to Express Those Sentiments on a Valentine

NEW YORK—(AP)—Ah, love.

The birds were singing, or should have been, and pretty Joy Taylor, of East Orange, N. J., went out today to put her feelings on record.

So did millions of other people. Why? "Because tomorrow's Valentine's Day," said Joy, "and well, I guess it's love."

That's one commodity that inflation hasn't affected. You can still send sentiments of the day for a dime.

"It's even much cheaper than it used to be," said a spokesman for the National Association of Greeting Card Publishers. "A hundred years ago, the lowest priced Valentines cost two to three dollars."

And the language is more varied than ever. Freud has even contributed his bit.

"How can I avoid, becoming a schizoid—" "When I'm feeling split in two—over you?"

A pert, brown-haired little wife named Ann Garland, 28, of Sunnyside, Queens, would like to tell her husband, George, something like this:

"This message, darling, has love in every line, 'Because you'll always be my year-around Valentine.'"

But she won't, she said, "because he'd think that one was too mushy. Men are all like that, aren't they? They'd rather it'd just be funny."

So she picked a comic card.

John Leyland, a salesman, of Bound Brook, N. J., said he was going to "surprise" his wife with a Valentine.

"I've been surprising her every year with one for 24 years," he said. "She'll surprise me with one too."

Negro Baseballer Laughs at Soviet Election Charge

EAST ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—Soviet comment on his recent election defeat for a place in the New Jersey legislature is "just a big laugh," Negro baseball star Monte Irvin says.

Soviet Sport—the top sports paper in Russia—yesterday blamed deceit and bribery of voters for the New York Giant outfielder's loss. It said it was "out of the question" in America for a Negro to be elected to an organ of state authority.

Irvin said, "Why the man that beat me is a Negro."

Irvin ran for a place in the assembly on a 12-man Democratic ticket which was beaten last Nov. 7 in normally Republican Essex county. The winning GOP slate included Edward T. Bowser, sr., also a Negro.

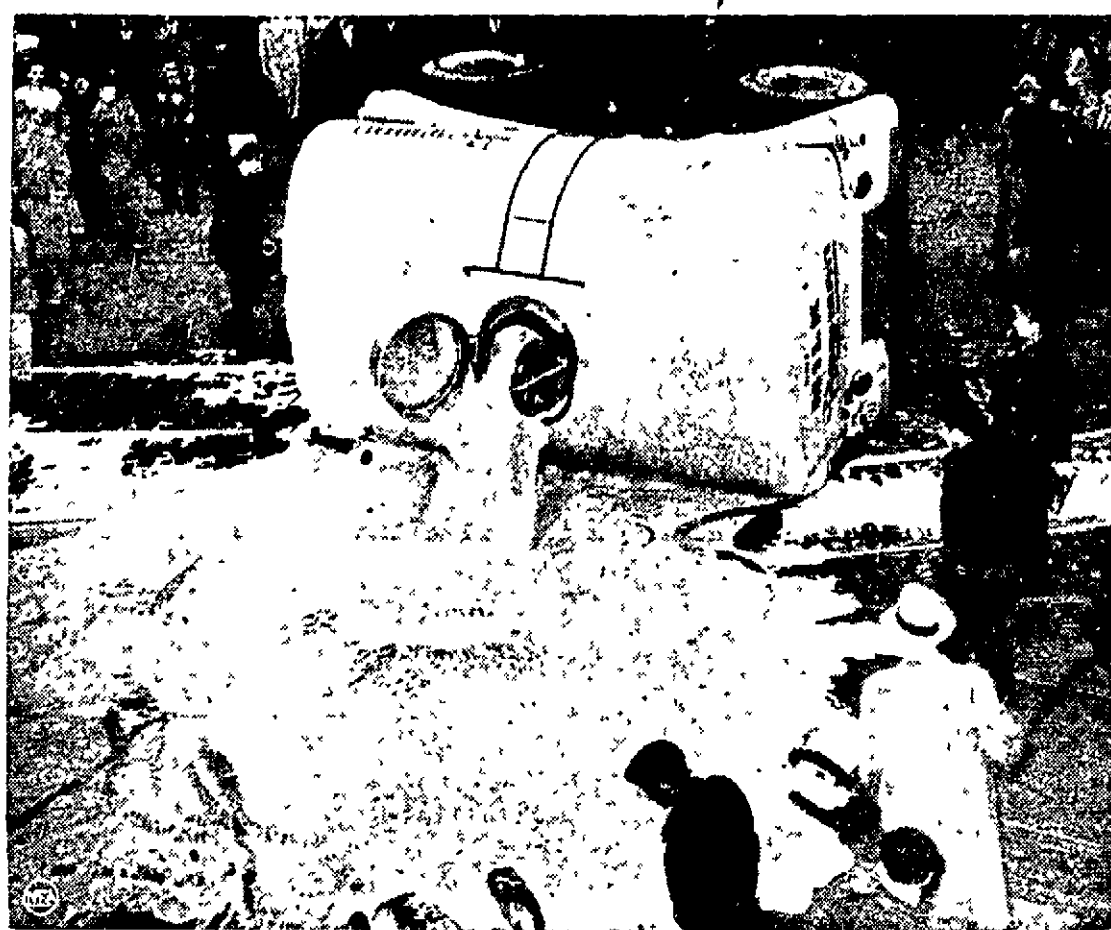

Head of Florida Klan Indicted

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—The Grand Dragon of the Florida Ku Klux Klan has been indicted on charges of violating the postal laws.

Bill Hendrix is accused in a four-count indictment of mailing libelous and defamatory postcards to Drew Pearson, newspaper and radio columnist, and to three Floridians: Kenneth Ballinger, Tallahassee lawyer, State Rep. Bryant Patton of Apalachicola, chairman of the Florida American Legion's Americanism committee; and to Gov. Fuller Warren.

Hendrix was jailed yesterday in $20,000 bond. The charges against him he said, amounted to "outright persecution." He is an announced candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

The grants, disclosed yesterday, may be used for draining off flood waters, deep ditch plowing and various conservation measures, in addition to building repairs.

Congress provided $16,480,000 last fall for direct financial aid and technical service for individual farmers. The Illinois farmers' share was part of $17,434,300 given out in six Midwestern states.

Congress has passed a deficiency appropriation amounting to only one cent on several occasions.

Quips About Jane Russell's Curves Anger Waterfield

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Quips by comedian Ben Blue about Jane Russell's celebrated curves almost caused him to be tossed behind his own goal line by her hubby, football star Bob Waterfield.

Blue invited the actress and her husband to be his guests at a night spot Sunday, but during the show singled her out for some gags that angered Waterfield, quarterback on the pro championship team, the Los Angeles Rams.

One report said Waterfield stalked Blue after the show, grabbed him by his coat lapels and threatened to smash him to the floor, but Blue and Miss Russell later denied this Waterfield could not be reached for comment.

"I made a stupid mistake," Blue said. "It was all in fun. Bob is a wonderful fellow, but he took it all wrong. I went over to his table and apologized. Jane accepted the apology, but Bob wouldn't. No, he didn't threaten to hit me. There was no violence. If there had been I'd probably be in a cast today."

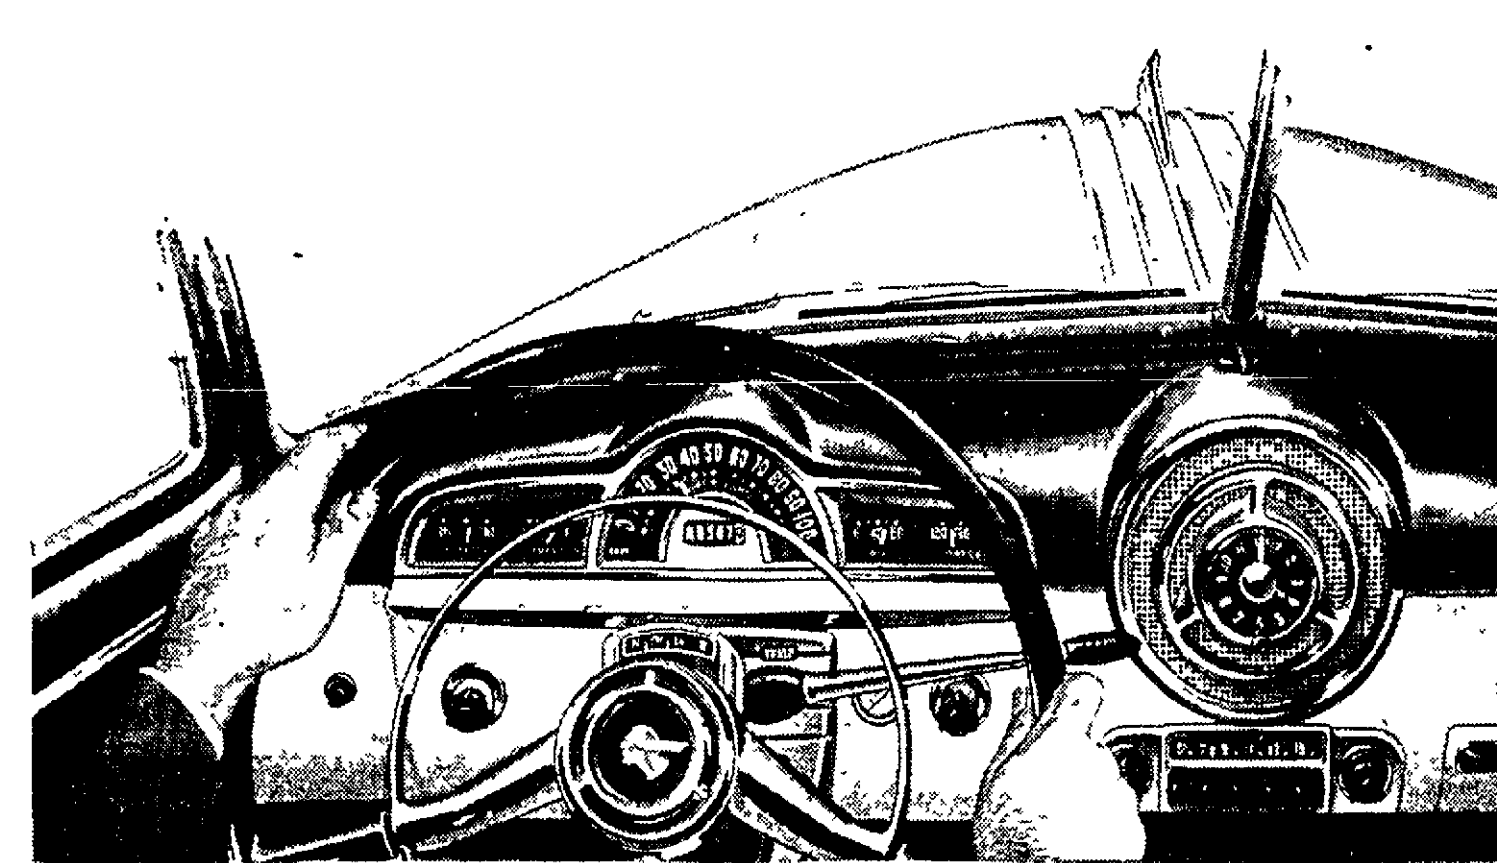

"This has all been greatly exaggerated," Miss Russell said. "We've been friends of Ben's for years. His remarks were personal, and we didn't think them funny, but we just got up and left after the show. After all these years I'm getting hardened to such remarks."

UN Health Organization Says Alcoholism Cause Congenital

GENEVA, (AP) — The basic cause of alcoholism in congenital, according to the United Nations World Health Organization (WHO).

A seven-nation committee of WHO experts on alcoholism found that only those "excessive drinkers" become alcoholics who are born with a "constitutional liability" to alcohol addiction.

The committee defined alcoholics as "excessive drinkers whose dependence upon alcohol has attained such a degree that it shows a noticeable mental disturbance or an interference with their bodily and mental health, their interpersonal relations and their smooth social and economic functioning."

Factor Not Established
The experts said the precise nature of the congenital factor in alcoholism had not yet been definitely established, but it was believed to be "a slight deficiency of carbohydrate metabolism, of the enzyme system or of certain endocrine relations."

The belief this deficiency is congenital is based on the fact that "many drinkers who drink as much as the addict, over periods of 25 years or more, never come to the stage of loss of control."

Persons afflicted with a congenital liability to alcoholism become alcohol addicts, the experts said, if they seek to correct a neurotic condition or "personality inadequacy" by drinking. After a few years of increasing intoxication, such persons reach a point where they lose control of their alcohol consumption and eventually become chronic cases. The experts estimated the duration of this process to average 15 years.

Cure Possible

A cure is possible, the experts said, with the help of drugs making alcohol abhorrent to the patient, as well as of voluntary organizations such as Alcoholics Anonymous. Once cured, an alcoholic must maintain total abstinence for the rest of his life. In many countries, the number of men in need of treatment for alcoholism is several times as great as that for tuberculosis. The committee estimated earlier that there were about 845,000 chronic alcoholics in the United States, 375,000 in France, 135,000 in Italy and 86,000 in Britain.

If Reds Want Income Equality They Should Try Capitalism

One of the great but false boasts of the Soviet Union is that the Communist regime has built a society in which people are more nearly equal in income than anywhere else in the world.

The truth is that American capitalism, which the Reds revile as the exploiter of ordinary humanity, has gone farther than any other economic-political system to narrow the spread between the highest and lowest incomes.

Even Socialist Britain, with its determined effort to achieve this very end, has not succeeded as have we in the United States.

Obviously the reason cannot be because the rich in this country are less rich than the most privileged in Russia and Britain.

The British have systematically sought to cut down the wealthy, and the top bracket Russians, though far better off than they want the people to realize, don't range very high by American standards.

The real story, as pointed out recently by Peter F. Drucker in the Saturday Evening Post, is that the "poor" people of the United States are so much more fortunate economically than the wretched lower classes of Europe and Asia.

The National Bureau of Economic Research, an outfit studying long range trends and not given to spectacular statements, calls what has happened to America's average individual incomes in the past 25 years "one of the greatest social revolutions in history."

More than 50 per cent of America's families now have what is considered a "middle class" income. Back around 1900, only 25 per cent of the families were that well off.

And these gains have been made despite a notable inflation that finds the 1952 dollar worth roughly one-third of the 1900 dollar.

For instance, the yearly income of the average U. S. factory worker has zoomed to $3000 today, against about $500 at the turn of the century.

That's a sixfold advance, and means his real income has doubled despite the cheapening of the dollar.

Drucker calls attention to another striking trend that is lifting up this country's lower income groups and diminishing the range between high and low.

This is the remarkable tendency of ordinary folk to participate in the ownership of the country's largest businesses.

The Bell Telephone System now has 1,000,000 stockholders. Of these, some 200,000 are company employees. Standard Oil Company of New Jersey has 220,000 stockholders, including many workers.

Altogether, 15,000,000 Americans, one out of every 10 men, women and children, are today stock owners. In other words, they have a financial stake themselves in the operation of our capitalist economy.

If you add to these all the people who have a share in business indirectly, through savings deposits and life insurance payments which afford business a prime source of capital, you get a much larger figure.

So the country which Communists—and Socialists too—constantly exhort as the despoiler of the masses is in fact doing far better by the masses than the enemies of capitalism have any hope of doing.

The kind of equality they talk about is the kind we already have and are steadily getting more of.

The sort the Reds are achieving is largely accomplished by leveling the top brackets, except for the privileged few of the ruling regime.

It is a destructive process that seeks to make a virtue of "organized depression."

Our increasing economic equality is attained not by leveling but by raising up the low brackets toward a standard of genuine well-being for all.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE
JOHNSON

NEA Staff
Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA) — Behind the Screen: The atomic boys who set of that big blast near Las Vegas a couple of months ago can start blushing.

The blinding flash and the mushroom cloud over the Nevada desert were not "spectacular" enough for a Hollywood movie.

A special Paramount camera crew photographed the explosion in technicolor for a sequence in the film version of H. G. Wells novel, "War of the Worlds."

Producer George Pal and special effects expert Gordon Jennings looked at the film and Pal tells it this way:

"It just wasn't spectacular enough. We agreed that the special-effects department could do a much better job, in miniature."

Now it's Victor Mature who's saying that he wants to retire from the movie king business and devote his time to being a businessman.

Vic says that it will happen after he plays Paris in DeMille's upcoming "Helen of Troy."

Did Errol Flynn get the TV bug as a guest star with Abbott and Costello?

"No sir," he told me, "I got the cure. No more. Really, it was an awful experience. Even today I don't know when I was supposed to make my entrance or exit."

A lot of friends told me I looked bewildered. Believe me, I was."

Errol, displaying his braver-than-ever characterization again as the star of UT's pirate tale, "Against All Flags," predicts the public will never see "Hello, God."

A movie he made in Italy two years ago. Says Errol of the film that's now the subject of a bitter legal brawl between himself and his one-time partner, Bill Marshall:

"The picture will sink back into the obscurity from which it should never have emerged. It's not a picture. It's just a lot of film that doesn't make sense."

His next film at Warners, he's been told, will be the Robert Louis Stevenson story, "The Master of Ballantrae."

The Solons Wondered, Too

Quick Magazine's Washington bureau reports that Van Johnson made a hit while in the capital filming "Mr. Congressman." When introduced to a congressman or senator, he always said:

"What am I doing in the movies when there's a handsome guy like you around?"

Television may not be for Errol, but it's tailor-made for Mickey Rooney, who's still raving about his guest appearance with Jimmy Durante. Says the Mick:

"I love it. I could do a live show every night of the week."

Ella Rames will make a film comeback now that she's a mama. A girl, Christina Eloise, was born to Ella and Lt. Col. Robin Olds in New York . . . Eye-opener: The Ma and Pa Kettle films are running second to the boxoffice records set by "Gone With the Wind" in Kansas and Oklahoma.

Maureen O'Hara is raving about "The Quiet Man," her co-starring film with John Wayne, and crediting John Ford for the best acting performance of her career. She told me:

"Ford makes you do things you didn't know you could do, and then you wonder how he did it. I guess he's a great psychologist as well as a director."

The fourth Jeanne Crain-Paul Brinkman baby is now expected in March. Jeanne first announced a June stork delivery.

I'm not accusing Jeanne, but a lot of movie queens deny stork rumors or put the big date months ahead to stay on salary at the studio.

JESSEL'S ALL STEAMED UP

Producer George Jessel is all steamed up over the printed report that Mitzl Gaynor, his discovery, is being sent back to the talent incubator for more training.

Or that the star is being removed from her dressing room door.

"It's untrue," George snapped. "We're merely adding some spectacular musical numbers to Mitzl's new picture ('The I Don't Care Girl')."

"The public won't buy the intimate type of musical any more. 'After that, Mitzl goes into the starring role in one of our biggest musicals 'Bloodhounds on Broadway.'"

Jessel's also holly denying that he has asked bossman Darryl Zanuck for a release from his movie contract to accept mountain-high piles of greenbacks from the TV networks.

"There's no television deal," he told me.

"It's just that a lot of people have been talking to me about TV. If and when I'm free to do it, I'll consider it."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Don't Trust Luck at Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

"The bidding and play of this hand took about five minutes," reports a Scarsdale correspondent, "but the discussion with my partner has lasted five days."

"West opened the six of hearts, and dummy won with the king. I had twelve tricks in top cards, and had to decide whether to set up a club or ruff a heart in dummy."

"If clubs were 5-2, they could not be set up. If the hearts were 5-2, it was still possible that the player with only two hearts could not over-ruff dummy's ten of spades."

"On this reasoning, I cashed the ace of hearts and led the eight of trumps to my ace. This was still another chance; the jack of spades might fall on this trick."

"Then I led a heart from my own hand, and West naturally stepped up with the jack of spades to let the contract."

"Was my line of play correct but unlucky, or incorrect and unlucky?"

Incorrect, I am sorry to say. The best play is to run four rounds of trumps at once, discarding low diamonds from the dummy. This beginning gives the opponents some light chance to make a mistake."

South then cashes the top clubs and ruffs a club, hoping for a 4-3 break. If the clubs are 4-3, he can set up a long club in dummy."

If the clubs fail to break, South leads a heart to dummy's ace, hoping that the queen will drop. If this break fails to materialize, South ruffs another low club and then leads his last trump in the hope of developing a squeeze."

As the cards lie, with all suits breaking badly, South still makes his grand slam. When the last trump is led, West has the high club and two diamonds. He must keep the club, so he discards a diamond.

Dummy can then discard the six of clubs, keeping ace-jack of diamonds. This puts it up to East, who has the queen of hearts and two diamonds. If he discards the queen of hearts, South's jack wins a trick. If he discards a diamond, dummy's ace clears the suit, and the jack of diamonds wins the last trick.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:
South 1 Heart West North East
1 Heart Pass 1 Spade 2 Clubs

You, South, hold: Spades 9-7-5-2, Hearts A-K-9-4-2, Diamonds K-Q-8, Club 4. What do you do?

A—Bid two spades. This shows slightly more than a minimum opening bid and four-card support for spades. If you fail to show your support while it is cheap to do so, you may never get an inexpensive chance later on.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades Q-7-5-2, Hearts A-K-9-4-2, Diamonds A-Q-8, Club 4. What do you do?

WESTBROOK PEGLER

Skeptics Frequently Wonder Who Is Running Occupied Germany, Commissioner McCoy or Stone

(Copyright, 1949, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

FRANKFORT ON MAIN, Germany—During my friendly inquiries at Bonn, the capital of the new Germany, which exists as a sort of ward of our carpetbag administration, I made a stab at the mystery of the interesting sojourn in these parts of Benjamin Buttenwieser, of New York, as assistant to John J. McCloy, the grand high cogalorum of the super-government known as HICOG. Mr. Buttenwieser put in a couple of years as McCloy's assistant. Some skeptics not officially connected with the grand lodge at Bonn have had the impudence to doubt under their evil breath that Buttenwieser was subordinate to McCloy and took orders from him.

The same vulgar speculations can be heard today regarding the relative actual authority of McCloy and our gifted American minister of culture, Shepard Stone, of the Sunday section of the New York Times, especially now that McCloy is off the job with a broken ankle. I cannot subscribe to the suspicion that Stone outnumbers the Hicogalorum of HICOG in the routing stresses of the administration because I have not been able to interview the Hicogalorum. I wanted particularly to ask McCloy how he could keep Buttenwieser on as his assistant in the economic and cultural war between "democracy" and Communism in view of the fact that Buttenwieser put his own personal opinion above the verdict of the jury after due process in the Alger Hiss case and the fact that his wife, a niece of Senator Herbert H. Lehman, of New York, was associated with the Hiss defense as a lawyer.

The news that the Buttenwiesers were hosts to the Hisses at their New York home after Alger's conviction of perjury, with plain implications of betrayal of the United States to Soviet Russia, occasioned appropriate comment at the time. But no occasion ever occurred in which an issue could be made.

Leslie Gould, the financial editor of the New York Journal-American, the only Wall Street reporter who has ever made a cops and robbers beat of that busy mart of trade, exposing doormat thieves and lushworkers in plug hats and limousines, once put the case straight to Buttenwieser. He wrote that Buttenwieser's reply to a question on the propriety of his continuing relations with Hiss was "You say he lies. I don't happen to think he did."

Well, neither did Alger's old friend, Dean Acheson, nor his old professor and sponsor, Justice Felix Frankfurter, who is Acheson's frequent companion, nor Eleanor Roosevelt. The source of the money for the defense in those expensive trials—there were two, you may remember, has never been revealed.

Those who exerted themselves for no declared reason include the late Louis Weiss, the political and legal adviser of Marshall Field, the little man who isn't there, and the fixer who hustled down to the White House and chilled the beef against a "far eastern expert" known as Mark Gayn when the Amerasia case broke. Gayn was employed by Field's Chicago paper at the time. In the first Hiss trial Weiss was all over the courtroom bustling around the enclosure where he had no official business and when I asked him the reason for his interest, he said he just loved justice, which is a noble sentiment at that. Louis Weiss' sister, Carol Weiss King, who also has died since then, was as ad as Stalin himself and specialized in the defense of Communists.

Max Lowenthal, the man who wrote the big fat book blasting Edgar Hoover and the federal bureau of investigation, was an old associate of Carol Weiss and was her employer years ago, and Jonathan Daniels, of Raleigh, one of Harry Truman's selfless secretaries, wrote in his Truman biography, "Man of Independence," that Lowenthal was Truman's political adviser and mentor and first selected him for the vice presidency long before Roosevelt picked him. Lowenthal has spent considerable time in Germany representing interests which he refused to identify under examination by the committee on un-American activities.

The reason why I have been unable to ask Hicogalorum McCloy how he happened to pick Alger Hiss' friend and host for his first assistant in Hicog is that, like the late Tony Cernak, mayor of Chicago, he was off the job when he might better have been on it. Cernak went to Miami shortly before Roosevelt's first inauguration to plead for amnesty, having guessed wrong in the convention and having barely missed the tailboard of the bandwagon in a flying leap the last time around. Had he stayed with his subjects in the blizzards that beset Chicago he would not have been in the line of fire when Giuseppe Zangara let fly.

McCloy went down to Garmish-Partenkirchen to commit monkey business on barrel staves and broke his ankle, so he is in drydock in Munich for an indefinite time. I asked Major General George Hays, the deputy Hicogalorum, how a friend of Alger Hiss got that job in an administration which whoops and hollers about its detestation of the Reds, and General Hays said he positively would have absolutely nothing to say whatever. The question was a hot potato to the gallant officer, proving again, as if we needed further proof after the dismal example of George Marshall, that no gallant officer can be gallant in the role of political agent of a bureaucracy with secrets to hide from the people. He said Buttenwieser was McCloy's friend, that McCloy brought him here and that McCloy would have to answer any questioning.

This whole show deserves the candid suspicion of the American press and public. They are squirting millions around with a firehose and yelling how they hate Communism but they represent the political party which went arm in arm with treason. Now they need another scare and another war boom to keep jobless millions out of the soup lines and they are using old Reds and old friends of Reds to fight Communism.

THE DOCTOR SAYS:

Antibiotics Help Battle An Ancient Bone Disease

"A friend," writes a correspondent, "suffered a broken leg in 1950, and now has osteomyelitis. Would you please discuss the seriousness of this condition and the treatment?"

Osteomyelitis is a disease of the bones and is known to have existed since the dawn of man because the bones of some primitive human beings which have been dug up have shown signs of this disease.

It is caused by a germ infection of the bone itself which destroys even this hard and resistant tissue.

The disease is still with us but thanks to improved surgical methods, and the use of such preparations as the sulfa drugs and antibiotics like penicillin, it is becoming on the whole both less frequent and more commonly cured.

Up until the last three or four hundred years severe osteomyelitis in one of the limbs was usually treated by amputation.

The disease was surrounded by superstition also and until the germ theory became understood, it was often treated with repulsive applications such as incinerated toads, fresh body lice, boiling oil, powders made from Egyptian mummies, turpentine, or herbs.

Maggots were commonly used in the treatment of osteomyelitis in the past because maggots eat only dead tissue and therefore

So They Say

I think we have created so many committees and commissions to deal with these problems (European defense) that people are stumbling over each other rather than trying to get together in a room and decide something.

—Sen. Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.)

I feel we talk too much about raising the spirit of people through material means. We have the sophisticated, cynical observation that, "The most sensitive nerve in the human body is the pocketbook."

—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

We (Britain) have the largest armored force on the continent of Europe of any of the Atlantic powers. And we have undertaken to keep it there. Is this abandoning Europe?

—Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary.

You can't properly complain about the verdict of a jury, but I thought Costello was contemptuous of the committee. I hate to see a fellow like him get by with it.

—Sen. Estes Kefauver, on Frank Costello trial jury deadlock.

If it is un-American and anti-Christian to defend the greatest Christian nation in the world through a fair, effective and less costly system of military training

Prayer for TODAY

Our heavenly Father, help us to look within ourselves, that we may amend whatever is amiss. But, lest we become wrapped up in ourselves, help us also to look without and consider what we can do to help others. And, lest we become discouraged with human society, help us to look up and trust thee. Amen.

Attendant Jailed For Robbing Own Station of $951

SANTA MONICA, Calif., (AP) — A gas station attendant, Evan Reynolds, 28, was in jail today for investigation of grand theft but the money he is accused of taking never left the station.

Police detectives said he claimed he was robbed of $951.55 but later admitted he stuffed the money down a pipe leading into a 4,000 gallon underground storage tank.

Officers fished up a $1 bill and a bag containing $24 in change but the rest of the money fell back into the tank.

(UMT), then I plead guilty. —Rep. Carl Vinson, D., Ga.)

Men Hate Word, Change; Have Conservative Nature

I just finished another one of those scoffing pieces about men and their clothes, how conservative the poor men are and how they suffer for it.

Nothing anybody will ever write poking fun at men and their clothes is going to change them.

Men are just conservative by nature. It's the woman in the family who instigates the changes.

Women love change as much as men hate it. When you hear that the Browns have finally decided to build a new house, or that the Smiths are making plans for an entirely new kind of vacation, you can be sure that Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Brown are behind those changes.

And it's a safe bet that they've had to work for months, or maybe even years, to sell their husbands the idea that a change is desirable.

Some women have so little luck in getting their husbands to make any kind of change they have to satisfy their desire for change in small ways.

Says Free Enterprise Periled By Steelworkers' Pay Demands

NEW YORK—(AP)—The steel industry argued today that the future of America's private enterprise system might be at stake in the present steel wage dispute. Hitting at demands of the CIO United Steelworkers union, Frank Purnell, chairman of the board of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., presented the industry case before a special WSB panel seeking to avert a threatened Feb. 24 nationwide steel strike.

Serious Threat
Granting of the wage demands without price relief, he said, would "seriously threaten" the well-being of the industry.

Granting them with price relief, he said, would "commit us to another round of inflation which might well be the one to prove that inflation never can be stopped."

"I submit that if we are to be spared the evils of runaway inflation in this country this is the hour in which it must be done," Purnell told the panel.

In the contract dispute, the union is seeking an 18 1/2-cents-an-hour wage increase and improvements in "fringe benefits" such as holiday vacation, overtime and night differential.

Purnell said in a prepared statement that Youngstown's "real net profits" in 1951 would be 3.9 per cent of "adjusted net worth" if the union applied a 1951 yardstick.

However, Purnell said, the CIO economists do not change the net profit and net worth figures and calculate Youngstown's 1951 profit at 10.7 per cent.

Quite Proper, But . . .
"The union quite properly insists upon translating the dollars received into terms of 'real wages,'" he added. "Admittedly, it does not profit a man to receive more dollars if those dollars will not buy more things."

"But the union completely refuses to make parallel corrections for the earnings of the employing company."

Warren Says GOP Should Embrace Social Progress

BOSTON —(AP)— Gov. Earl Warren of California, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, says the Republican party "will be doomed to permanent minority status" unless it embraces a program of social progress.

"We shouldn't be afraid of 'collective bargaining' or of 'social security,'" he told the annual Lincoln Day dinner of the Middlesex Republican club last night.

The 60-year-old Warren was the GOP vice presidential candidate in 1948.

Bible Characters Real People, Says Methodist Speaker

COLUMBUS, O. —(AP)— Modern scholars have revealed Biblical characters as real people rather than "little plaster of Paris saints or nameless devils," a Methodist publishing agent said here last night.

Dr. Roy L. Smith of Chicago spoke at a meeting at which excerpts from a new American version of the Old Testament were read.

The meeting was held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the division of Christian education of the National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A.

Smith said historical and archaeological research has shown the Bible to be the story of "actual crusaders involved in desperate struggles in behalf of a decent and righteous world."

We should be "brave enough" to accept the new approach rather than the "traditional and mystical" approach," Dr. Smith said.

"We will soon find ourselves face to face with ugly facts mingled with the blood of heroes and martyrs," he added.

The International Council of Religious Education originally authorized the new version of the Bible. A committee of 32 scholars worked on it and the New Testament was completed in 1946. The complete Bible is to be published in September.

Leroy Hoyle Hurt In Auto Accident

Leroy Hoyle, 21, Rt. 1, Dixon, narrowly escaped serious injury late Tuesday night when the car he was driving crashed into a culvert and overturned.

Hoyle received four stitches for a scalp cut and one in his hand but otherwise was uninjured. State Officer James Giblin, Dixon, said Hoyle told him he fell asleep at the wheel.

The accident occurred at 11:45 p. m. on Rt. 26 three miles north of Dixon. The Hoyle car went off the west side of the road, struck the culvert and rolled over on its top. Hoyle was alone. The 1941 auto was badly damaged, Giblin said. He was assisted in the investigation by State Officer Robert Fischer, Dixon.

The wreath includes hundreds of curled laurel leaves—it took two women 12 hours to curl them—and white lilies.

Hunt Black Beast At Kremlin, Okla.

KREMLIN, OKLA. —(AP)—A black beast, believed to be a panther, has played an elusive game of hide-and-seek with ranchers in the Kremlin area the past few weeks.

It vanishes when searching parties comb the area. Then, when least expected, it turns up to kill a young steer or lamb.

Authorities believe the animal escaped from a small circus whose owner failed to report his loss.

No (S)kidding . . . ?

LOS ANGELES —(AP)—A Los Angeles inventor today described a simple device which he says will keep automobiles from skidding on slippery roads.

Dr. William Ross, the inventor, calls it the gyro-skid control. The device, weighing 45 pounds, is placed on the cross rear member of a car, parallel with the rear axle.

It consists of a steel tube 36 inches long and 3 inches in diameter. Inside the tube is a 35-pound sliding steel bar weight. The bar is free to slide back and forth laterally on ball bearings. There are springs inside each end of the tube.

"It acts as a counter centrifugal force," Dr. Ross explained. "Since skidding is a result of the lateral displacement of weight and counter-centrifugal action of this device, replacing that weight prevents skidding."

Dr. Ross said the device will even cut down skidding on a fast stop.

Farm Owner Tells PMA to Keep Subsidy; Claims It's Costly

MILWAUKEE, (AP)—A farmer-industrialist who has received farm subsidy payments in the past says he wants no more because the subsidies cost "at least twice as much as it would were I to pay directly for such practices that are subsidized."

C. O. Wanvig, in a letter Tuesday to Thomas P. Godsell, chairman of the Milwaukee County Production and Marketing Administration committee, declared:

"This is to inform you that I propose to operate my farm as I please, when I please, and where I please, so long as it is not a nuisance or menace or contrary to the public interest. I want no subsidy from the government because I know it will cost me, as a taxpayer, at least twice as much as it would were I to pay directly for such practices that are subsidized."

The PMA, which Godsell heads in Milwaukee county for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, pays subsidies to farmers who follow practices designed to conserve soil or improve crop production.

Godsell said he felt Wanvig was wrong in his attitude toward the payments to farmer and added:

"He (Wanvig) took the payments for five or six years the same as the rest of the boys. When a large firm gets aid it's a grant, but when the farmer gets it, it's a subsidy."

Wanvig, chairman of the board of Globe-Union, Inc., battery and electronic parts manufacturer, and a 260-acre farm operated by a manager.

Wholesale Food Prices Decline

NEW YORK —(AP)— Wholesale food prices dropped this week to the overall level of Jan. 15—which was lowest since early November, 1950, according to the Dun & Bradstreet food index.

At $6.57 the index compared with $6.61 last week and was 9.4 per cent below the year-ago level of $7.25.

It hasn't been lower since it touched $6.52 on Nov. 7, 1950. The highest point reached since then was $7.31 on Feb. 20, 1951.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of one pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Higher in wholesale cost this week were corn, rye, hams, cottonseed oil and hogs.

Lower were wheat, oats, barley, butter, sugar, coffee, cocoa, eggs, steers and lambs.

Legion Bans Slots in All Kentucky Posts

The state department's executive committee approved the action at a meeting here and planned today to mail directives to all the 265 posts in Kentucky. A spokesman said the committee action was approved unanimously.

The action followed recent raids by FBI agents, who confiscated slot machines at several Legion posts, two of them in Louisville.

Arctic Sleigh Dogs, Owner To Be Elks' Guests

Artic Malmute sled dogs will be featured at the Thursday night meeting of the Dixon Elks club. Their owner is George Esslinger from Lake Kabetogama in northern Minnesota.

During World War II Esslinger was one of 11 experienced dog team drivers recruited for service on a mission to Greenland, Baffin land and Labrador with the Arctic Search and Rescue team. They were assigned to finding downed flyers along the air route between the United States and Europe.

Esslinger saw combat duty in Belgium during one of the most unique assignments given a dog team driver. He was among a team of dog team drivers rushed by air to France during the Battle of the Bulge. The dog teams were used to evacuate the wounded.

Esslinger makes his own harnesses from deer hide and builds his own sleds. The Malmutes and their driver will appear at the Dixon high school Thursday afternoon and at the Nachusa orphanage Friday. The program Thursday night will be part of the regular BPOE meeting.

U. S. Needs Leader With 'Guts,' Says Senator Dirksen

CORBIN, Ky., —(AP)— Leaders "with guts" should be the Republican party's aim in the presidential campaign, a Lincoln day meeting was told here last night.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said the party should seek men who will "set forth the simple principles of sanity, solvency, fidelity and loyalty."

"There is a need to place the country first and the party second," he said, blasting immorality, Communism in government and the national debt.

Dirksen addressed the largest audience in the history of the Ninth District Republican club. He said the nation is enjoying a prosperity gained with the "blood and graves of men in Korea."

Telegraph Sports Editor Tells Polo Rotary Sports Emphasis Can Be Channeled to Education

TOO HONEST—While Corp. Herbert L. Timmons was working at South Bend, Ind., his wife and child remained at their home in Kalamazoo, Mich., so he answered his draft board query that he wasn't living with his wife. The draft board thought he meant he was "separated" and inducted Timmons. Before he realized what had happened he was on his way to Korea. He is now at home on furlough awaiting discharge.

"Let's channel some of the emphasis on sports into other departments of our schools."

That was the suggestion offered Polo Rotary club members Tuesday by Hugh Hough, Dixon Evening Telegraph sports editor and guest speaker at the weekly meeting.

"The fact that there is a problem of over-emphasis on sports is healthy in a way," Hough said. "It is a healthy sign when people get interested enough in anything to make a problem of it. Too much apathy brings more problems than too much emphasis. In this case our problem is not to de-emphasize, but to divert the emphasis into more constructive channels, into channels where it will do the entire school system more good."

Calls for More Interest
Hough suggested increased interest in such less-publicized but still-important segments of school life as music, drama and especially scholarship.

"We can pay more attention to these things and still maintain an active interest in sports," he said. Hough pointed out that such service clubs as Rotary can lead the way in this "diversion of emphasis" by recognizing high scholarship and outstanding ability in other fields through awards.

Can Do Good Deed
"A service club can do the high school system a good deed by honoring at a banquet each May the top students in each class in high school," Hough said. "This will give promising students something extra to work toward."

The speaker added that more wealthy service clubs in larger cities might well offer a scholarship to an outstanding student each year.

Hough also commented on the present high school basketball picture and saw the coming state tourney eliminations as the most wide open race in recent years.

A lively question-answer period and general discussion of sports followed Hough's talk.

Diana Barrymore Quits Australia Tour in Squabble

SYDNEY, Australia — (AP) — Diana Barrymore, daughter of the movies' greatest profile, is going home to America after a temperamental five months and three abruptly-ended engagements in Australia.

Her last turn was abruptly halted after Monday night's performance when the manager of Brisbane's Theater Royal accused her of offending the audience with her language. He fired her.

Diana, whose Papa John was no slouch at temperament and language himself, said, "All I wanna do is sleep and then I wanna go home."

Financial Worries
She blamed the Brisbane incident on financial worries—she had been expecting a remittance from the estate of her mother, the late Authress Michael Strange.

"My worries ended Tuesday," she said.
The Brisbane theater man, Laurie Smith, said he had warned Diana three times before that her act wasn't up to standard and that on Monday "she used language which offended the audience, for-

Heralds and messengers from the College of Arms, escorted by household cavalry, will first read the proclamation from the balcony of St. James' Palace, from the steps of the Royal Exchange and by mayors throughout the United Kingdom. It will then be read or published throughout the British Commonwealth of Nations.

Astronomers Prepare to View Eclipse of Sun on Feb. 25

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The next total eclipse of the sun will be all over in the space of three minutes. But consider the work that goes into preparing for those three minutes!

The government supplied some facts and figures today.

First of all, government scientists decide on the best possible place for viewing the moon passing over the sun's face.

For the Feb. 25 eclipse, they have agreed on Khartoum, halfway around the world in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

Go to Khartoum
After some preliminary work in the states, a field team headed by Dr. George Van Biesbroeck, Yerkes observatory astronomer, went to Khartoum around the first of the year.

Dr. Van Biesbroeck reported to his Pentagon superiors this week: "It's 98 degrees in the shade just now."

got her lines and sang an unscheduled song.
"Many walked out of the show," he reported.

Miss Barrymore came here first to appear in a Sydney night club but was dropped after two weeks of a four-week contract. Then she appeared—but only for a few nights—in Noel Coward's "Fallen Angels" at the Princess theater in Melbourne.

She also hit the headlines when an inspector ordered her off a Sydney beach because her bikini bathing suit was too scanty.

Then, he added a bit ruefully:

"And this is the cold season!"

Eight weeks' planning at Khartoum was necessary for the important three minutes. Concrete footings were poured to support the National Geographic Society's huge, tripod-mounted telescope-camera. The instrument was shipped to the Sudan back in November and was assembled on the site of the study.

May Be For Naught
When zero hour comes on the 25th, the American team may find that all its work has been for naught if it rains or a dust cloud or sand storm swirls up to distort the view, there may be nothing worth looking at.

But the chances are against it. That's why Khartoum was chosen. Rains and clouds are practically unknown there in February.

Incidentally, Americans who stay at home won't see the eclipse. Its path will sweep in an arc of 9,000 miles from near the equator to the middle of the Atlantic on one side and Southern Siberia on the other.

Khartoum will be right in the middle of the arc.

NO DIET RENNEL RECIPE HELPS MOLINE LADY

"While taking Rennei Concentrate I was able to lose 27 lbs. in just 6 weeks. This home recipe certainly means a great deal to me as you can tell from the number of free bottles I send in for according to your offer on the label. Rennei keeps away the bloating that I was bothered with." So writes Mrs. Alice Williams of 1618 8th Ave.
It's amazing how quickly you can lose unsightly fat at home. Obtain liquid RENNEL at your druggist, mix with grapefruit juice or juice of two lemons as directed and take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you do not lose weight with the very first bottle just return it to the manufacturer for your money back. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with RENNEL.

Britons Stand In Cold, Snow To Honor King

LONDON — (AP) — Snow flurried and the temperature dropped to 17 degrees but three grieving Britons—a woman, a hitch-hiker and a crippled war veteran—waited throughout the night to lead new thousands in homage past the bier of King George VI today.

They were the first of an estimated 15,000 persons lined up at 8 a. m., when the doors of Westminster Hall opened for the second day of public homage to the dead monarch.

All but one of Europe's remaining ruling sovereigns and other representatives of the world's governments meanwhile hurried to London for the king's funeral Friday.

First in the line today was a woman from Oxford.

The man behind her had hitchhiked 130 miles from Somerset.

A crippled veteran of World War II was the third. He said he had driven the 50 miles here from Brighton in his little motorized three-wheel invalid car. He hobbled in on crutches to pay last respects to the dead monarch.

Municipal League Survey Will Seek Remedy for Money Worry

SPRINGFIELD — (AP) — The Illinois Municipal league is setting out to canvass mayors for recommendations on how to relieve mounting financial troubles of cities.

A. L. Sargent, the league's executive secretary, said today questionnaires will be sent to several hundred Illinois cities asking for detailed information on finances and what steps are needed to help cash-depleted treasuries.

Sargent said the replies will form the basis of league recommendations when its leaders appear before a legislative commission set up to study municipal money problems.

The commission has just begun its work and has not announced a schedule of hearings. Sargent said his group probably would not appear before the commission until April at the earliest. The commission will report its findings to the 1953 regular session of the legislature.

The league itself has set up a special 20 member committee to delve into the financial headache which has plagued most cities in recent years.

Some of the remedial proposals already discussed include turning back the state utilities tax to cities and easing referendum restrictions on increasing property taxes, Sargent said.

He emphasized that no definite program will be recommended by his organization for some time.

But, he told a reporter, "the fact that stands out like a sore thumb

Convict-Actor Arrested for Chicago Theft

NEW YORK, (AP) — Because he looked like a convict, a 33-year-old man identified as Max Joseph Proskauer was given a part to play such a role in a movie a year ago today.

The FBI now says Proskauer admits he actually is an ex-convict.

Arrested here by FBI agents yesterday, he was held in $20,000 bail as a fugitive on charges of committing a Chicago bar hold-up in 1951.

The FBI said it traced Proskauer's movements this way: After fleeing from the Chicago holdup, he hid in Jacksonville, Fla. He learned there that Universal International Pictures was making scenes in Jacksonville for a movie, "Under the Gun," starring Richard Conte.

Proskauer, one of dozens applying for a job as an extra in prison road gang scenes, was chosen by the director because of his appearance.

Proskauer was quoted yesterday as saying he served five years in Joliet prison on a charge of armed robbery in Chicago.

Some of the largest and hungriest species of mosquitoes are found in the Arctic.

Warning: American Women Reaching Unheard of Altitudes

BY HAL BOYLE
TAMPA, Fla., (AP) — Are you finding it harder to meet American women on their own level?

I am. And with me the reason is very simple. I no longer can look them in the face. I have to look up to them.

They are getting that tall. What are they feeding girls these days anyway—"Grow fast?"

Everywhere you travel about this nation you notice that the younger feminine generation is shooting up like corn stalks under a hot July sun.

Bigger and Better
Maybe that's just a reflection of the American credo that we have to have everything bigger and better. But foreign visitors, notably Frenchmen, for some time have been appalled at the altitude our ladies are attaining. And certain disadvantages are becoming apparent to the native male, too.

For in the battle of sexes in the United States men have been steadily losing ground. They

Sen. Douglas Says He Has Plan for Federal Economy

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., (AP)—The reason government costs so much, says Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) is that everyone wants the other fellow to do the economizing.

Businesses "which usually profess a holy horror" of subsidies themselves are enjoying hundreds of millions of dollars in government subsidies each year, Douglas told an audience of business men and civic leaders last night.

Douglas proposed a program for balancing the budget and halting inflation, but said it would be his "political death warrant" if put into effect. It calls for cuts of one and a half billion dollars in civilian and foreign aid; cuts of four billion dollars in military expenditures; plugging tax loopholes and raising taxes.

Businesses Benefit
Douglas said businesses which benefit from the government subsidies are steamship lines, airlines, periodicals, banks and insurance companies.

The senator said the Department of Agriculture, Veterans Administration and U.S. army engineers are agencies which could effect economies. The first two, he said, are "grossly overstaffed," and the latter promotes "wasteful" projects.

He also said the armed forces could stand drastic budget pruning. The senator estimated the armed services have unused or unusable materials worth 10 billion dollars in warehouses.

TAFT (Charles) DENOUNCED CINCINNATI, (AP) — Charles P. Taft's home county Republican party scorchingly denounced him last night and endorsed a rival of his for the gubernatorial nomination, State Sen. Roscoe R. Walcutt.

Charley's brother, Sen. Taft, already enjoys the Hamilton county group's support in his bid for the GOP presidential nomination. The senator is staying out of the state primary battle for local offices.

Easy As Pie

A dream came true for Cpl. Jene Weaver, left, of Columbus, O., as he smacked his top kick, Leroy E. Ferringer of Sharon, Pa., full in the face with a beautiful lemon chiffon pie.

The pie was one of 20 heaved into the smiling faces of sergeants at a March-of-Dimes party given by men of the 26th Infantry Regiment, Frankfurt, Germany—with proceeds going to fight polio.

The Doctor's Dilemma

By Al Capp

SLAP-HAPPY—Harvard sophomores Oakleigh Thorne, left, of Bedford, N. Y., and Richard Mortimer, of New York City, bang away at each other during their 48-hour face-slapping marathon. Having heard how two of Stalin's Reds set a record of slapping each other 17,260 times, they bettered that mark by one slap.

FOOTLOOSE—Some folk put their best foot forward but the Wallen twins (Eileen, left, and Enid) prefer to put theirs' way over their heads. The sisters, starring at a Miami Beach night club, practice acrobatics on the sunny beach.

Youth Reenacts Slaying Sister, Mother, Brother

MILWAUKEE—(AP)—Sixteen year old John Schulz broke down and cried Tuesday as he re-enacted the triple slaying of his mother, brother and sister.

The rangy youth described in detail at the Schulz home movement he and his mother, Katherine, 37, brother, Bobby, 10, and sister, Kathleen, 5, had made before and during the shootings Saturday night.

John sobbed when he reached the point of describing the actions of Bobby, who had crawled under a bed in a futile attempt to escape the shotgun blasts.

After the re-enactment, John was returned to his jail cell to await arraignment today in district court. Deputy Dist. Atty. Joseph Tierney said three first degree murder warrants would be issued and that he would ask a mental examination for the boy.

John told authorities he had done the shooting after becoming angry over his mother's refusal to let him use the family car. He attended a high school basketball game after the shooting and then left town in the car. He was picked up in Missouri by police for routine questioning Sunday. That night his father returned home from a business trip and found the bodies.

BACK IN SERVICE—Out of the mothball fleet at San Francisco and back in service is the U. S. S. Intrepid, 27,000-ton Essex-class aircraft carrier. During the war, the big flattop lived up to its name. Most-frequently hit carrier in the Navy, it was battered into flames by Jap aerial attack four times and four times, its damage repaired, it returned to battle. In 15 months of combat action, Intrepid's guns and planes sank 89 enemy ships and 660 enemy aircraft. After recommissioning at San Francisco, she goes to Newport News, Va., to have her flight deck modernized to handle new, heavy planes.

GOP Lincoln Day Speeches Are Devoted to Blasts at Democrats

(By The Associated Press)
Republicans from coast to coast took a deep breath today after Lincoln Day speeches aimed mostly as blasts against the Democratic administration.

Three GOP aspirants for the presidency—former Gov. Harold Stassen of Minnesota, Senator Taft of Ohio, and Gov. Earl Warren of California—were among those who had their say.

Stassen, in Denver and Salt Lake City, called for "ending seven years of mismanaged Missouri miscue of our nation's government." He accused the Truman administration of waste, loose spending and "unnecessary loss of lives of American sons."

Rely on Chiang
Taft, in Seattle, said Chiang Kai-Shek's forces on Formosa, now neutralized, could "protect the island chain which is our Pacific shield and prevent Communist conquest of southeast Asia." He said a Communist assault threatens southeast Asia and "the only chance to stop it is by a Chinese Nationalist invasion of Communist-held territory." Chiang forces make up in spirit what they lack in equipment, Taft said.

If Lincoln were president today, Warren said in Boston, he would block Communism's spread by uniting freedom-loving nations

Tomato Plants New Source of Sex Hormones

WASHINGTON, (AP)—The Agriculture department reported today that the common tomato plant contains material that can be used to make sex hormones.

Chemical research has found, the agency said, that a new alkaloid called "Chrysaline Tomatine" can be extracted from the tomato leaf.

This alkaloid can be used as a starting material in the manufacture of the medically important sex hormones progesterone and testosterone.

Progesterone is used in drugs for the correction of menstrual disturbances, prevention of spontaneous abortions and the relief of cervical cancer. Testosterone also is used as a remedy for menstrual disturbances and for suppressing breast cancer.

The department said the value of the new discovery lies in the fact that heretofore only three sources were available for the preparation of these drugs—animal-nerve tissues, soybeans and Mexican yams.

The department said Tomatine might even be converted into Cortisone, a new drug being used for relief of arthritic pains. However, there are chemical difficulties to such conversion. The department said that once a practicable method has been perfected, the use of the tomato plant as a suitable source for Cortisone would make possible a considerable reduction in its price.

TV Lineup Gives Homemaker Scare

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Study this face on your television screen, the announcer said, because this man is wanted for investigation of housebreaking.

Mrs. H. H. Knowles, at home in nearby Alexandria, Va., studied the face. A knock on the door interrupted her. She walked over and looked through the peephole.

Yipes! Same face!

Mrs. Knowles called police. The man fled. Police didn't catch him.

Famous Chinese Diplomat Buried

CHICAGO, (AP)—Chin Kung Fong, well known among his people as a statesman and humanitarian and by the title of "peace-maker," was buried today after one of the largest Chinese funerals in the city's history.

More than 3,000 persons lined the streets of Chinatown, south of the downtown section, to pay their respects to the nominal head of the Chin, or Chan, family, in this country.

Chin, an importer and exporter, died Jan. 31 at the age of 90. He was given the "peace-maker" title because of his efforts to settle the so-called Tong wars of years ago in the United States.
